STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

This structure may be the building listed on the 1878 Martenet's Map as belonging to J. T. Akers. The asphalt shingles and early 20th century window sash, however, belie a mid-19th century date. Without examination of the interior, the origins of this house are impossible to establish. Neither is the situation amplified by the configuration of the structure. Three bays wide and one room deep with an apparently recent saltbox addition, the house could date to anytime from the early 19th century to the early 20th century.
